The National Council for Voluntary Organisations

The main areas worked on by the NCVO are:

- Civil Society and Participation;
- Funding;
- Local Government;
- Public Services;
- Value and Values of the Sector;

In a nutshell – Charity Law and Regulation is a key area of the NCVO's work, ensuring that the sector has a legal and regulatory framework that meets the needs of charities and the public in the 21st Century. For more information email: anne.collart@ncvo-vol.org.uk.

Funding is a key strand of the NCVO's work. Its public policy work seeks to ensure that funding and the fiscal environment best meet the needs of voluntary and community organisations. For more information please email: louisa.darian@ncvo-vol.org.uk

Local Government If you go to www.ncvo-vol.org.uk/policy/localgovt website you can get news on community and local government developments.

Public Services are, broadly speaking, services which are funded with public money. They can be delivered by the state or on behalf of the state by a voluntary and community organisation or a private sector company. Email: Louisa.darian@ncvo-vol.org.uk
